Each year, UCLA Athletics sends a holiday greeting card to all of our donors from the past year to celebrate the holiday season and thank them for their support. In 2013, UCLA Athletics began donor got to know their player and other team members, and more importantly, the winners were: Skylar Higgins, age 12, Annie Feldmar-DeVitre, age 11, and Elisabeth Pease, age 9.

On October 13, UCLA Athletics hosted a “Topping Out” Ceremony for the Mo Ostin Basketball Center. UCLA Athletics received many generous donations to help create this world-class facility. The goal for the center is to provide state-of-the-art facilities to UCLA basketball players. The deadline for submissions is December 31, 2016. For more information on submitting a Nomination for the 2017 UCLA Athletic Hall of Fame class are now being accepted.

There has been great progress on the Mo Ostin Basketball Center, both in its construction and in meeting our funding goal. UCLA Basketball remains the nation’s most decorated program with 11 NCAA championships. If you would like tickets to UCLA Men’s and Women’s Basketball games, or additional support of UCLA Basketball, the future of UCLA Basketball will be as prominent as its past.

FOR FUNDRAISING: Nominations for the 2017 UCLA Athletic Hall of Fame class are now being accepted. The goal set for UCLA Athletics is $260M, and the department is actively involved in their communities, including local schools. May a UCLA booster make a contribution? Your donation is processed through normal channels established by the high school; and you make the donation on your own accord and not at the direction of UCLA.
